(Late) Sri Lingaya Gadde

Lingaya's Society (Formerly Lingaya's Jankalyan Shikshan Sanstha) was established in the memory of the freedom fighter Late Shri Lingaya Gadde, who sacrificed his life to free his motherland, from the shackles of conventionalism, illiteracy and poverty.

Our society is inspired by the strength of such freedom fighters. Shri Lingaya Gadde, an agriculturist by profession, took part in the 1923 Civil Disobedience and Quit India Movement and went to jail several times.

He wrote several books on socio-communist issues. He was the editor of "Navyuga", communist's party organizer and also the founder of "AdarsaGrandhaMandali", Elamaru, and Andhra Pradesh. A high-quality instructional manual in the form of self-learning materials (SLM) is provided in each programme of studies has been the backbone of Lingayas Vidyapeeth education system. The content is written in such a simple language that learner doesn't need an instructor for explanation. A continuous effort and investments are being put in by Lingayas Vidyapeeth in developing academic strategies, revising and making learning materials more and more student's friendly.

Continuous Internal Assessment (CIA)

CIA is a systematic process of monitoring the learner's progress by gathering the information using multiple sources like Personal Contact Programmes, Assignment Work. It is necessary for learners to attend and perform well in these activities as each activity collectively forms a weightage of marks other than the term end examination.

- Personal Contact Programmes –The basic purpose of PCP is to deliver a class room learning and interaction to learners with the faculty members and with the other learners enrolled in the similar or other programme of studies. PCPs essentially are a doubt-clearing sessions under distance learning. - Assignment Work –Since the interaction of learners and teachers are very less in distance education. Assignment & Project works build a two-way communication between learners and teachers, It is not only important, but an essential component to determine the learners' writing skills and the level of understanding. The assignment question papers are provided to each learner and they are required to submit within the stipulated time, assignments are assessed by a faculty member.

Practical Exposure Class (PEC)

Practical exposure classes are compulsory to attend if prescribed in the curriculum of a respective programme that a learner has opted for. PECs are usually held in campus and on weekends, the schedule of classes is announced by LV-SODL department from time to time. It is necessary for learners to attend these classes in order to appear in the term end examination.

Professional Project Work (PPW)

PPW equips learners to face and to handle real-world problems, to understand the complexities of real life situations while at work and at the same time learners also get an opportunity to interact with the industry experts while undergoing Professional Project Work. The learners are required to prepare a project report, which shall be evaluated by the University and followed by viva for comprehensive evaluation.

Examination

- The term end examination is held on a semester system basis.
- December/January/June for the Academic batch and in June/July for the Calendar batch respectively.
- Date sheet or examination schedule term-end shall be made available on University's website at least 15-20 days before the exam start date.

LV-SODL follows evaluation on the basis of two components to assess the performance of its learners as mentioned below:

1. Continuous Evaluation (30% Component)
